VITICOLTORI TOMMASI

Det er godt hundrede år siden, at Tommasi-familien startede som vinbønder. Grundlæggeren Giacomo Tommasi kom til den lille landsby Pedemonte, der ligger i hjertet af det klassiske Valpolicella-område uden for Verona. Fra bedstefar Giacomos første, lille vingård i Pedemonte, har Tommasi-familien udvidet løbende, og nu ejer de over 130 hektar i Veneto-området. Tommasi er kendt for sine Valpolicella-vine. Det er værd at bemærke at alle Tommasis vine kommer fra egne vinmarker og er Estate-vine. En lang række af deres vine bærer også vinmarkens navn, da alle Tommasis vine bliver vinificeret hver for sig. Tommasi var en af de første til at producere Amarone og ligeledes blandt de første til at introducere Ripasso. Amarone og Ripasso er Tommasi-familiens stolthed. Vinene fra Il Sestante er mere klassiske, og som vin blev fremstillet i "de gode, gamle dage". Navnet henviser til en sekstant, det gamle måleinstrument, som søfarende brugte for at finde vej. Præcis det samme som Tommasi-familien stadig gør: nemlig at søge efter det bedste.

Approximately 100 years ago the Tommasi family began as winegrowers. The founder Giacomo Tommasi arrived to the little village Pedemonte, in the heart of the classical area Valpolicella, just outside the city Verona. Since then Tommasi has been known for its fantastic wines from this region. All of Tommasi's wines are from their own vineyards and are classified as Estate wines. On a large number of their wines, the name resembles the vineyard, because all Tommasi's wines are vinified separately. Tommasi was one of the first producers of Amarone and Ripasso, which today is the pride of the company. The Il Sestante wines are classical wines – produces as in "the good old days" and the name Il Sestante refers to a sextant, the old instrument used at sea to navigate, exactly as the Tommasi family always has and still does: Search for the best.

THE HESS COLLECTION WINERY

Gennem otte generationer var Hess-familien kendt for sin bryggeri-virksomhed i Bern, Schweiz. Da Donald Hess i 1956, måtte overtage ledelsen af det over hundrede år gamle bryggeri pga. faderens pludselige død, var han blot 20 år gammel. Men den unge Donald Hess voksede med opgaven. Han var en sand igangsætter og pionér, og snart stiftede han Valser Water, som skulle blive det førende mineralvands-mærke i Schweiz. Ved en af sine mange rejser til USA's vestkyst i 70'erne, var han kommet til Napa Valley. Her fik han serveret nogle af de lokale vine, der imponerede ham så meget, at han besluttede sig for selv at producere vin herfra. Resultatet blev, at han i 1978 købte sin første Napa Valley vingård og grundlagde The Hess Collection Winery i Mount Veeder. The Hess Collection blev både i 2005 og i 2007 kåret som "US Wine Producer of the Year" ved The International Wine & Spirit Competition i London.

Throughout 8 generations the Hess family was known for their brewery in Bern, Switzerland. In 1956, after his father's sudden death, Donald Hess was, at the age of only 20, left in charge of the 100 year old brewery. But the young Hess rose to the occasion. Being a true entrepreneur and pioneer he soon founded Valser Water which became one of the leading mineral water brands in Switzerland. He often visited the US' west coast in the 70'ties, and on one of his trips he came to Napa Valley. He tasted some of the local wines and he was so impressed that he decided to produce wine from Napa Valley as well. In 1978 he bought his first Napa Valley Vineyard and founded "The Hess Collection Winery" in Mount Veeder. In 2005 and 2007 the Hess Collection was selected "US Wine Producer of the year" at the International Wine & Spirit Competition in London.

PETER LEHMANN

Peter Lehmann er en levende legende i australsk vinindustri og en af de mest respekterede vinpersonligheder, især anerkendt for sin indsats for Barossa Valley og dennes lokale vinbønder. Bare sytten år gammel startede han i 1947 sin karriere i vinbranchen, hvor han kom i lære hos det historiske Yalumba i Barossa Valley. Senere, i 1960, kom han til Saltram, hvor han avancerede til winemaker med ansvar for de mange aftaler, der var indgået med de små vinbønder. I 1978 havde Australien overproduktion af vine, og Saltram beordrede Peter til at bryde sine aftaler med vinbønderne. Peter vidste, at det ville betyde økonomisk ruin for de små avlere, og det kunne han ikke acceptere. Han skabte et nyt firma med hjælp fra familie og venner og aftog nu druerne for selv at producere vinen, og allerede i 1980 stod et helt nyt vineri færdigt. Mange mener, at han således redede vinindustrien i Barossa Valley og ikke mindst moralen hos de mange små vinavlere. Peter Lehmann blev i 2003 og 2006 kåret til "International Winemaker of the Year" og i 2003, 2006 og 2008 kåret til "Best Australian Producer". Begge gange ved International Wine and Spirit Competition, London.

Peter Lehmann is a living legend when it comes to the Australian wine industry and one of the highest respected wine personalities, especially known for his big effort in the Barossa Valley and its local wine growers. In 1947, only 17 years old, he started his career in the wine industry as an apprentice at the historical Yalumba in the Barossa Valley. In 1960 he joined Saltram as a Wine Maker in charge of all the agreements with the small wine growers. In 1978 Australia suffered from an overproduction of wine and Saltram ordered Peter to breach his contracts with the wine growers. Peter knew this would cause financial ruin for the small growers and that he could not accept. With help from friends and family he established his own company and bought the grapes to start up a wine production – and in 1980 a new winery was established. Due to that, a lot of people think that he rescued the wine industry in the Barossa Valley and most of all the morality among the growers. In 2003 and 2006 Peter Lehmann was selected "International Winemaker of the Year", and in 2003, 2006 and 2008 "Best Australian Producer" at the International Wine and Spirit Competition in London.

FACTS

Kun den sydligste del af Australien har det rette klima for vindyrkning. Alligevel er der en afstand mellem vinmarkerne fra øst til vest, som fra Danmark til Nordafrika, hvilket giver en spændende variation i smagen. New Zealand er et lille vinland, men med det perfekte klima for druer som Sauvignon Blanc og Pinot Noir.

Only the southernmost part of Australia has the right climate for wine growing. Even so, the east-to-west distance from the vineyards is the same as from Denmark to North Africa, which provides for a stimulating taste variation. Although New Zealand is a small wine-growing country, it has a perfect climate for grapes like Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir.

FACTS

Vinene fra Nord- & Sydamerika er de mest populære vine herhjemme fra de oversøiske kontinenter. Chile er storfavoritten og vi får hvert år 42,7 mio. flasker derfra. Men også de californiske vine og de nye vinområder som Oregon og Washington State er med i opløbet. Californien og Washington State står for mere end 90% af de dyrkede vinarealer i USA og er værd at holde et vågent øje med i de kommende år.

Wines from North and South America are the most popular wines in Denmark coming from overseas continents. The 42.7 million bottles imported from Chile every year make it the top favourite. But Californian wines and new wine-growing districts like the states of Oregon and Washington are also in the running. California and Washington represent more than 90% of the cultivated wine-growing districts in the USA and are worth keeping close tabs on in the years ahead.
